

Remember, if the problem of invasive ivies goes unchecked it only gets worse. In order to protect our environment and our wallets, now and in the future, homeowners should be aware of the dangers invasive ivies present.

The Problem With Invasive Ivy

About Ivy Free Vienna

Ivy free Vienna is an effort sponsored by the Town of Vienna through the Town of Vienna Community Enhancement Commission. By organizing small community removal efforts Ivy Free hopes to educate town residents on the issue of invasive ivy and inform them on how to combat the issue themselves.

How To Deal With Your Ivy Problem:

To remove the ivy from you trees cut each individual vine at around your eye level or lower. Make two cuts roughly 3 inches apart and remove the segment between the two cuts, this stops the ivy from mending.

Invasive Ivies Are Strangling Our Trees

Harmful invasive ivies are a pervasive problem in Vienna. These ivies, most notably English Ivy, present a risk not only to Vienna's environmental wellbeing but to homeowners. By weakening trees, invasive ivies can cost homeowners, whether it's though expensive tree removal, property damage from weakened trees which fall, or decreased resale value of the home (healthy trees boost a home's value). In Glyndon Park volunteers are working with the Town of Vienna Community Enhancement Commission and have made significant progress in removing damaging ivies from our trees.
